

Antonio Patruno Randolfi

role

Programme Leader Fashion Design
Istituto Marangoni School of Fashion Milano

Antonio Patruno Randolfi grew up in a family where fashion has always been a universal language. In the long-established family-run atelier, he learned the rules of Italian sartorial traditions. After studying at Istituto Marangoni Antonio gained important national and international work experience, covering various design typologies including outerwear and accessories. With a wealth of skills acquired over the years he is able to take on roles of prestige including Fashion Co-ordinator and Design Director, as well as joining the teaching faculty at Istituto Marangoni in 2008.

This variety of work experience enables Antonio to offer students great technical support in their studies, with additional backing from his continuous connection to the world of work. In 2015 Antonio was appointed the role of Programme Leader for Fashion Design Undergraduate programmes.
