WHY MILAN?

Milan is the international Capital of fashion and accessories where key players in Fashion and Luxury converge. It is a trend-setting City, thanks also to the strong presence of buyers in the area.

Students can experience the creative process through Luxury Companies and Showrooms: therefore, Milan represents an international centre of production and creativity which is constantly evolving, and which makes real the idea of marketability season after season.

KEY OUTCOMES

— Industry Projects

Students work as consultants for leading fashion and luxury brands. They are assigned to a business case, run a market research, define a strategy and implement innovative solutions. The projects always involves professionals in Executive positions and Human Resources managers.

— Industry Analysis

Students professionally assess competitive dynamics and business opportunities within the various luxury industries through KPIs as market value, profitability, strategic groups, value chain, concentration and barriers to entry.

— Marketing Plans

Students carry out market and industry research to define strategies and implement innovative plans in the domain of marketing, branding, and communication.

— Media Plans

Students learn to design and implement a cohesive campaign that integrates multiple communication tools and channels for maximum impact, ensuring consistency across all communication touchpoints.

— Business Plans

Students carry out market and industry research to identify new market opportunities and launch new brands and business ventures. Within the plans students master project management tools as PERT and WBS, define KPIs, budgets and run financial projections.

— Merchandise Plans

Brand Managers frequently work with Product Managers. As a result, students need to understand their professional practices and tools, learning how new products are developed and managed through range plans, collection boards, technical charts and cost sheets.
