COURSE INFORMATION

Educational Aims:

- to develop flexible approaches to programme delivery and student support, which reflect the needs and expectations of our learners;
- to provide a supportive and inclusive learning environment which will enable success for all learners;
- to develop the students' intellectual abilities, creativity, independence, critical self-awareness, imagination and skills that will enhance global employment opportunities on completion from all courses;
- to establish a culture of constant improvement in learning, teaching and assessment that is anticipatory, enabling, supportive, rewarding and fully aligned with the Institutions vision and strategic objectives;
- to provide a learning experience that is informed by research, reflective practice and engagement with fashion and design industry and the professions.

Course Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- know how to implement drawing approaches in order to represent effectively a creative idea;
- demonstrate the ability to undertake primary and secondary research, in the development of design ideas;
- become familiar with the basic financial and commercial considerations of collection design;
- support creative ideas with appropriate technical information;
- create a capsule collection referencing current trends and influences relevant to the target market.

Teaching/Learning and Assessment Strategy

Curriculum

This course is designed for young talents who have launched – or are planning to launch – their own fashion brand.

It offers a comprehensive introduction to the fundamentals of fashion design, aimed at supporting emerging talent in the creation and development of their own collections. Participants will explore essential concepts in the design process, learn basic drawing and illustration techniques, and study current fashion trends. The program also delves into the role of the fashion designer, encouraging students to engage in creative research and develop a personal collection through a blended learning approach.

In the final week, the students apply the skills acquired in the previous weeks and present their work as a collection portfolio, receiving comprehensive feedback.

This course is structured over 4 weeks:

Week 1 – 20 hours

Introduction to fashion drawing and design techniques; foundational principles of developing a fashion collection, including silhouette, color charts, fabric selection, and accessories.

Week 2 – 20 hours

Focus on materials (different type of fabrics, features and use of each of them); finishes, dyeing and printing; laces and embroidery; new technology and materials; sustainability and materials

Week 3 – 20 hours

Exploration of creative research process; analysis of the trend research path; forecasting of the new/upcoming trends (in terms of shape, colors, materials, volumes etc); analysis of how trends shape contemporary collections.

Week 4 – 15 hours

Creation of a basic fashion design collection supported by essential technical elements, including color charts, inspirational materials, and mood boards; presentation of the work and comprehensive feedback through a final holistic critique.

Assessment:Formative Assessments:

This consists in a daily interaction with the tutors that through feedback help the trainees to adopt a critical appraisal of their own learning experience, and helps them assess their own performance in relation to the learning outcomes set for each element of study.

Summative Assessments:

These are formal assessments and are a means of gauging trainee learning, at a particular point in time, relative to established marking criteria (Learning Outcomes). Summative assessments can occur during as well as at the end of each unit on specific evidence of trainee work, examples as follows:

Portfolio Assessment is used to assess a variety of projects that have been developed throughout the unit and contained within a single folder or portfolio. Portfolio assessment could take a variety of formats depending on the subject and stipulated by the tutor.

Practical and class-based projects allow students to apply their theoretical understanding of a specific subject area.

Written Reports are required in some study areas and these will in some cases be a response to industry briefs, allowing students to reflect real industry requirements and to present work to industry standards through report writing.

Presentations are used in some subjects to allow students to develop their creative, professional communication and presentation skills, formalising their arguments in a critical manner. When giving presentations students are actively encouraged to embrace new technologies and media in an innovative way where appropriate

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT PLANNING

PDP/Individual Development Tutorial

The Director of Education and the Academic Service support the personal development of students. One-to-one appointments may be made by phone, through the receptionists or by email. Students can expect to be seen almost immediately to discuss any issues they may have.

Student Support Strategy

Istituto Marangoni's departmental policies ensure that various mechanisms are in place to enhance the student experience, in a pedagogic, practical and pastoral way:

- a. programme handbooks provide relevant information to students;
- b. the use of the Library, online resources (where available), and the centre facilities help students to reach the skills and knowledge expected on the course;
- c. Tutors and the Director of Education guide students to the most appropriate help

Student Support Officers

Istituto Marangoni provides Faculty Student Support Officers, who act as the first point of contact for students for pedagogical counselling.

For matters of pastoral care the Student Support Officers help in:

- finding their way around;
- managing their time;
- dealing with stress;
- exam tips;
- getting the best from their course;
- understanding and applying the School's rules;
- anything else the officers can advise on.

One-to-one appointments may be made by phone, through the receptionists or by email. Where possible students can expect to be seen almost immediately, or contacted to arrange a suitable time.

Student Feedback

Student feedback is essential to programme development and student comments are used to enhance both the successful management of the programme and the teaching/learning strategies.

Istituto Marangoni gathers student opinion in a variety of ways, which may include the following:

- Informal contact with the Tutor, through appointments with academic staff;
- Issues will be taken to Programme Reflective Meetings and added to the Annual Academic Monitoring Report;
- Formal Student Representation;
- Final Questionnaire (at the end of a study cycle);
- NPS (Net Promoter Score) Questionnaire (at the end of each academic year).

It would be desirable that students provide details of their identity when giving constructive feedback on the course and teaching methods. There might be occasions when that is not appropriate and Istituto Marangoni recognises such exceptions. In these instances, the programme teams and central support services will ensure that anonymity and confidentiality are respected
