

Giusi Lara

role

Director of Education

Istituto Marangoni School of Fashion and Design London

Giusi Lara, Director of Education at Istituto Marangoni London since 2017, is a former alumni of Istituto Marangoni Milano and more than 20-year extensive international experience as fashion designer, she has worked for luxury and high street brands in womenswear, menswear and kidswear.

Alongside the management of her own studio in Milan, 15 years ago she began her career path in education. She started as a part time tutor for one year intensive courses at Istituto Marangoni Milano, moving to BA and finally to MA courses in menswear design/tailoring and fashion business.

Constantly travelling and working abroad with international firms, mostly in emerging markets, in 2012 she left Europe to look after the launch of the first IM branch in Asia - The Shanghai Training Center - as Director of Education. She then moved to Shenzhen for the opening of the second IM branch in China.