List of Suppliers/Resources	Once you begin to plan and implement your own shoots you will need to create a list of contacts such as below: The student will be the stylist and creative director and is responsible for organizing all the elements of production in the shoot. Models/ model agencies Photo studios Photographers Make up artists/ stylists Hair stylists Fashion product Prop hire/ prop materials Tutors will advise / recommend local resources: E.g. studios as per best available rates As above students will also shoot in the studio with photography tutor and will negotiate models for free, who want images for their portfolio (test for print free), this can also apply to make up and hair stylists. To note: students will choose their own location as per concept, a studio usually demands some basic costs, but other locations such as outside can be free. A shoot can cost as little or as much as a student wants to spend, however there will always be some cost incurred, paying for at least some members of your creative team or some elements from the list of resources needed to shoot, including the making or hiring of props, if a set shoot. To note students could share studio hire costs.

	It is advisable to form relationships with other creatives who will work for free so that everyone can benefit from images for a portfolio, this could be other students for example or working with models or stylists starting in the industry.
Additional course costs (estimate, depends on personal and School projects)	Between £600 to £3000 per academic year
